Content

72 cards:
2 cards with 1 to 9 points per color

Aim of the game

Bring 5 (with 2 players) or 4 (with 3 or 4 players) of your color cards in a row. This can either be horizontally, vertically or diagonally.

Setup

2 players:
Everyone get all cards of 2 colors.

3 players:
Everyone get all cards of 1 color and 6 random cards of the fourth neutral color. In the game of three, the neutral color doesn't count.

4 players:
Everyone get all cards of 1 color.

Everyone shuffles their cards very well and do 1 deck with backside up.

Playing the game

The youngest player starts. He reveals his top card and places it in the middle. Now every revealed his top card. After that every discovered card must be "place next to a card" or "placed on top of a card".

Place next to a card:

With edge or corner to already lying card(s).

Placed on top:

The card that you place on top of a card must have more points than the other card (color doesn't matter).

Attention:

All cards have a grid of maximum 6x6 cards!

As soon as a player has 4 or 5 cards (his own) in the same color in a row (column or diagonal), he wins the round.

He now takes the card with the most points in his row out of the game, and will not play with this card for the remaining game.

All other cards will be sorted again* and shuffled. After that a new round begins with the player left from the winner of the round.

*For 3 players:

Distribute the played neutral color cards evenly to the players. The remaining neutral cards stay in the deck of the players.

Ending the game

Whoever has won 2 rounds has won the hole game. Of course you can play more rounds if you want.

No line was completed?

If a player can't play a card in his turn, the player with the most rows of 3 (or 4) wins the game.

At another tie:

The player with the fewer points in his row(s) wins.

Teamgame for 4 players

- The team members are sitting on the opposite of each other.
- The cards in 2 colors will be mixed together.
- Each team member gets half of the deck.
- Goal: to have 5 cards in a row of the same color.

Bernhard Weber dedicates this game to his mother.
